DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH

Report of One Day Study Tour

The Department of English was organized One Day Study Tour on 21-01-2018 at Ratnagiri, Pawas and Ganaptipule, which was based on the theme of Eco-feminism, a universal movement came into focus in the early decades of the twentieth century. Women always have been regarded as the protector of the nature. She nurtures nourishes and enhances the natural phenomena. Keeping in view that the Department faculty members made all possible arrangements to take the students in the company of nature and to absorb the enchanting beauty with the assistance of the local women.

The collective expedition of Study-Tour began with great zeal and enthusiasm in the early morning of the roopootic day. The special bus of twenty seater was hired for a day long journey. The journey proved within a short period of time a comfortable and specious. After having breakfast at Amba, a beautiful place, where one could not avoid this, as it is considered an entry gate of konkan area; began journey to reach for the another destination.

When we reached at Ratnagiri, we asked about the important places to look at a glance. After collecting the information, we decided to visit at Thibao palace first. Thibao, the king who ruled over the area about 19th century. Thibao palace, is a monumental building which is recently reconstructed and painted with beautiful natural colour. So it looks beautiful than the earlier. The group visited to the palace musiam where many statues, important documents and portraits are preserved to get known the reign of king Thibao. It was decided to visit another destination, Pawas. It's known for the great pious sage Swami Swarupanand Maharaj who sacrificed his life for the betterment of the people. There is a great galaxy of such respective sages in the Indian culture who have adopted the death for the sake of the upliftment to people.

After having a small amount of Prasad, students are brought outside the maths where the main purpose and objective of the study tour has to achieve. Out of the main gate of Swami Swarupananda math, some shops are installed, most of the stalls are run by women. Students took lead to interact with the female shop proprietors. They questioned about the natural products and their involvement at the time of productions. While interrogating over feministic role in the by product, Gau. Puslipa Desai, local vendor revealed her experience about the production female have to work more than men, and proprietorship of the stall automatically handed over to the men. This discrimination has followed by the patriarchical mentality. She also revealed the stark reality about the differences of wages. Students pacified with the interaction with women vendors and group photo session was held.

It was time to return from the place and journey began again towards another destination, Ganapatipule. It is a popular place where devotees of Maharashtra and near by states like Goa, Karnataka and Andrapradesh visit atleast once in a year. Ganapatipule is famous not because of Lord Ganesha's idol, but for the natural bounty: Arabian sea, rows of coconut trees, greenery scenes, a varieties of crops, Ratndurg fort. While the journey began from pawas, on the way, there was another small halting place that was 'Bhate Bridge'. It was over crowded place as there was another Vinayak Mandir where devotees enjoying Mahaprased because it was the day of Ganesh Jayanti. We have to skip the place as it was over crowded and not possible to reach within time span.

The group reached Ganapatipule at afternoon time. The shrine of Lord Ganesh was beautifully decorated with garlands and varieties of flowers. The huge crowd of devotees engage to perform the rituals, bowing down their heads to asking something and praying to God. The students had to move in the raw, but fortunately students got chance to pray God within no time. There made two groups of students for the next engagement. Some boys students were very much excited and enthusiastic to dupe into the sea water. Another group of students engage to questions to get known about ecological feminist approaches. They interacted with the female tourists, gathered there from different parts of the state.

The female tourists responded and actively participated in the interaction, and exhibit displeasure and anguish over the discrimination which constructed on the basis of patriarchy. And they raised the objections how being a woman has to suffer on the basis of female discrimination. Students tried to get the knowledge of eco-feminism. They shared their valuable time and became a part of the activity. Photo session took place along with these female tourists.

In the passage of time Sun was in hurry to setting down and there was another place to visit before sunset. The Driver took speed to reach within the time span. Ultimately, group reached at Ratnadurg fort. The fort have enormous, huge and imposing structure. On the top part of fort, there is a beautiful temple of Bhagavati. At the foot of Ratnadurg fort, one could view the most imposing and attractive sea shore where many huge ships were scattered, and launched for business purpose.

The returning journey began with a heavy heart. The students enjoyed dinner at Ronit Hotel, which is away from Hatkhamba, the central place of konkan region. The students expressed their gratitude for arranging the much awaited and fruitful study tour. They expressed their concerns of such tours to be arranged once in a year. Giving hearty thanks to each other, the group dispersed with confident but touchy feelings.
